CAPITAL AND SURELUS, -The above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entiraly upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no supersors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklys—securities that have not, for the past tan years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and hisble, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their continuing risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital tence the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage. Policies hered without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an associativy. JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1860.

PAN SPERCH.-Col. Evens, editor of the Baltimore Patriot, made a manly and fearless speech at a republican meeting in New York recently. He declare I that he was a member of the "American" party, but endorses the Chicago platform and was ready to vote for Lincoln. He said "the leaven is spreading in the south. Maryland, Virgin-ia and Kentucky would each give them several thousand votes. The southern descendants of the men who periled their lives for freedom would stand for freedom still. He had received an anonymous letter telling him that unless he ceased to proclaim his attachment for Lincoln, he would be compelled to leave Baltimore, and he had told a friend then that on the 6th of November next, live or die, survive or perish, if it was the last act of his life, he would cast an open ballot for Lincoln and Hamlin,-(Long centinued applause.) Col. Evans told how the Baltimore Patriot had been proscribed because it supported the principle of freedom. He considered the election of the republican candidates a foregone conclusion. He wanted the men of the north not to be seared with this scarecrow of the dissolution, of the union. They Madison and Prairie du Chien, " could not drive them (of the south) out of the union. If the election was carried to hourse " " the Senate Mr. Like of Green, would be Mailson. " " the Senate, Mr. Line, of Oregon, would be chosen President. In conclusion, Colonel Hanover, connecting with 0 & C U R R, mails bring the report of a speech made by A. W. Weeks at Sacramento, which seems like everything in California, sui generis .--Here is a specimen of it:

Laughter and applause.] He is a man but and applause. He is a man thoughter and applause. He is a man who, under all circumstances and in every position, whether driving an ox team over the plains of Illinois, or beating Stephen the plains of Illinois, or beating Stephen the plains of Illinois, or beating that the state. A. Douglas in a campaign in that statefor he did beat him-whether doing any or all of these things has done it nobly, and has done it ably. (Applause.) Then there is one other candidate—Hannibal Hamlin -of whom I wish to say a word, as I came from his state and have the honor of a personal acquaintance. Mayor Gillis says that he has got an old speech that I delivered somewhere in this city years ago, in which I abused Hamlin. Well, I don't know but I did; for when I belonged to the Democratic party I used to lie like the devial. [Laughter.] I had to do it. I now has a superior of the like the line of the limit of the lim sonal acquaintance. Mayor Gillis says [Laughter.] I had to do it. I now plead the statute of limitation in regard to that speech. It is four years ago since I made it, and he can't draw it on me now.

But to the subject. I have known Hamiin. But to the subject. I have known Hamlin from my youth up. When but sixteen years old I went out and stumped the state of Maine with him; that is, he made the Dearton streets, at the likeligan Central Railcold of Dearton streets, at the likeligan Central Railcold of of Maine with him; that is, he made the peeches and I held the horse. [Great

THE SPIRIT OF SEVENTY SIX .- Washing ton Irving used to relate the following

An old gentleman of the old school, a somewhat pompous patriot, (belonging, if 1.00 P. M. Chudmati and Louisville Express, every day we remember rightly, to the order of "Cincinnati," or the "Washington Benevolent Society," and decorated with a white satin ribbon badge, on which was imprinted an engraved likeness of the Pater Patrice,) was to be called upon, at the end of the regular toasts, to step out upon a halcony of the hotel, where "Fourth of July" was being celebrated, and address the clamoring crowd. Full of good spirits, good wines, and a good dinner, be did so step out; but at first his tongue clave to the roof of his mouth: presently, however, it was loosened and he spake thus: "Fellow citizens of Passacak, Nyack and Kakiack: seventeen hundred and seventy-six years ago, Gener-

"Hold on!" said one of his fellow citizens; "you don't mean seventeen hundred and seventy-six years ago; you mean,,——
"Silence!" exclamed the irate, muddled orator: I know what I mean! Fellow citizens: as I was saying, when this fellow interrupted me : seventeen hundred and seventy-six years ago, General Washington, whom I wear in my buttonhole, died!" COMMERCE OF MILWAURER.-We desire to call the attention of those people who profess to think that the trade of Milwau-kee is languishing, to the statistics of re-ceipts of produce and merchandize for the last week; to be found in our commercial columns this morning. The receipts of wheat, alone, for the week amount to about half a million bushels, exclusive of the deliveries by teams, or about double the receipts of the corresponding week last year. From the first of January to Saturday last, the receipts of wheat are 4,379,247 bushels, against 2,282,817 bushels in 1859.-Milwaukee Sentinel of Monday.

The Warren (Trumbull county) Chroni le states that much excitement was caused in that town on Monday last, by the passing through of an engine on wheels, which went puffing through the streets like a road locomotive, as it was. It came on the C. & M. railroad from Cleveland, and was taken off the car and set in motion on its own account, bound for the Mecca oil region, there to be used in pumping oil. 'It was originally built for the purpose of drawing plows, to plow the prairies of the west. On the hubs of the driving wheels was the name of J. T. Price, Richville, Ind., who was probably the inventor. The cylinders were about seven inches in diameter, and the whole aparatus weighed six tons. NOT YET TO BE DISSOLVED .- The Washington Constitution concludes that the election of Lincoln would not dissolve the Union, but might excite to an unprecedented degree the apprehensions and indignation of the south. By the same reasoning, ought not the

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt it paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and homorable dealing, they have but five equals, and in me periors. They are founded upon the very best socurifies in the world-first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn-securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in 'inver' of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become aimost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-saided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsurar their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital lovice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without clay, and farms: risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutoal Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company. CASH CAPITAL OVER - $1,900,000

DAILY GAZETTE.

A BALTIMORE EDITOR MAKES A REPUBLI CAN SPEECH .- Col. Evans, editor of the Baltimore Patriot, made a manly and fearless speech at a republican meeting in New York recently. He declared that he was a member of the "American" party, but endorses the Chicago platform and was ready to vote for Lincoln. He said "the leaven is spreading in the south: Maryland, Virginia and Kentucky would each give them several thousand votes. The southern descendants of the men who periled their lives for freedom would stand for freedom still. He had received an anonymous letter telling him that unless he ceased to proclaim his attachment for Lincoln, he would be compelled to leave Baltimore, and he had told a friend then that on the 6th of November next, live or die, survive or perish, if it was the last act of his life, he would cast an open ballot for Lincoln and Hamlin .-(Long continued applause.) - Col. Evans told how the Baltimore Patriot had been proscribed because it supported the princi-ple of freedom. He considered the election of the republican candidates a foregone conclusion. He wanted the men of the north not to be scared with this scarecrow of the dissolution, of the union. They could not drive them (of the south) out of the union. If the election was carried to

CALIFORNIA POLITICS .- The California ails bring the report of a speech made by A. W. Weeks at Sacramento, which seems ike everything in California, sui generis.-

her best for the republican cause, led by

Mr. Winter Davis."

Here is a specimen of it: "It is scarcely necessary that I should speak of Lincoln personally, for there are hundreds here within the sound of my voice who know him, and know him well They know him to be high minded, honorable and honest; one who in all the walks of life has shown himself to be every inch a man-and that is six feet four of him.-Laughter and applause.] He is a man who, under all circumstances and in every position, whether driving an ox team over the plains of Illinois, or beating Stephen A. Douglas in a campaign in that state— for he did beat him—whether doing any or all of these things has done it nobly, and has done it ably. (Applause.) Then there is one other candidate—Hannibal Hamlin -of whom I wish to say a word, as I came from his state and have the honor of a personal acquaintance. Mayor Gillis says that he has got an old speech that I delivered somewhere in this city years ago, in which I abused Hamlin. Well, I don't know but I did; for when I belonged to the Democratic party I used to lie like the devil. [Laughter.] I had to do it. I now plead the statute of limitation in regard to that speech. It is four years ago since I made it, and he can't draw it on me now. But to the subject. I have known Hamlin from my youth up. When but sixteen years old I went out and stumped the state of Maine with him; that is, he made the speeches and I held the horse. [Great laughter and applause.] He was a Democrat then, and I myself belonged to that old party when it was a party.

THE SPIRIT OF SEVENTY-SIX.-Washing ton Irving used to relate the following

An old gentleman of the old school, a somewhat pompous patriot, (belonging, if we remember rightly, to the order of "Cin-cinnati," or the "Washington Benevolent Society," and decorated with a white satin nadoe, on which was imprinted an engraved likeness of the Pater Patrice,) was to be called upon, at the end of the regular toasts, to step out upon a balcony of the hotel, where "Fourth of July" was being celebrated, and address the clamoring crowd. Full of good spirits, good wines, and a good dinner, he did so step out; but at first his tongue clave to the roof of his mouth: presently, however, it was loosened and he spake thus: "Fellow citizens of Passacak, Nyack and, Kakiack: seventeen hundred and seventy-six years ago, Gener-

"Hold on !" said one of his fellow citi zens; "you don't mean seventeen hundred orator; I know what I mean! Fellow citi zens: as I was saying, when this fellow in terrupted me : seventeen hundred and sev enty-six years ago, General Washington whom I wear in my buttonhole, died!"

COMMERCE OF MILWAUKEE .-- We desire to call the attention of those people who profess to think that the trade of Milwantee is languishing, to the statistics of receipts of produce and merchandize for the last week; to be found in our commercial columns this morning. The receipts of wheat, alone, for the week amount to about half a million bushels, exclusive of the deliveries by teams, or about double the receipts of the corresponding week last year. From the first of January to Saturday last, the receipts of wheat are 4,379,247 bushels, against 2,282,817 bushels in 1859.—Milwaukee Sentinel of Monday.

The Warren (Trumbull county) Chronicle states that much excitement was cause in that town on Monday last, by the passing through of an engine on wheels, which went puffing through the streets like a road loco motive, as it was. It came on the C. & M railroad from Cleveland, and was taken off the car and set in motion on its own account. bound for the Mecca oil region, there to be used in pumping oil. It was originally built for the purpose of drawing plows to plow the prairies of the west. On the hubs of the driving wheels was the name of J. T. Price, Richville, Ind., who was probably the inventor. The cylinders were about seven inches in diameter, and the whole aparatus weighed six tons.

NOT YET TO BE DISSOLVED .- The Washington Constitution concludes that the election of Lincoln would not dissolve the Un ion, but might excite to an unprecedented degree the apprehensions and indignation of the south.

By the same reasoning, ought not the election of Breckinridge excite the indignation of the north? It is a poor rule that will not work both ways. Lady Franklin and her niece, Miss Cracraft, arrived in Chicago on Saturday evening, and took rooms at the Tremont

THEY above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are bunded upon the very best securities in the werld—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the part ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and mo-tided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital two the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage. Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid. CAPITAL AND SURBLES, ___-

New York Life Insurance Company, CASH CAPITAL OVER - $1,000,000 all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

DAILY GAZETTE.

A BALTIMORE EDITOR MAKES A REPUBLI-CAN Speech .- Col. Evans, editor of the Baltimore Patriot, made a manly and fearless speech at a republican meeting in New York recently. He declared that he was a member of the "American" party, but endorses the Chicago platform and was ready. Freight, to vote for Lincoln. He said "the leaven is spreading in the south. Maryland, Virgina and Kentucky would each give them sev Freight, eral thousand votes. The southern descend-ants of the men who periled their lives for freedom would stand for freedom still. He had received an anonymous letter telling him that unless he ceased to proclaim his attachment for Lincoln, he would be com-pelled to leave Baltimore, and he had told a friend then that on the 6th of November next, live or die, survive or perish, if it was the last act of his life, he would cast an open ballot for Lincoln and Hamlin.—
(Long continued applause.) Col. Evans told how the Baltimore Patriot had been proscribed because it supported the princi-ple of freedom. He considered the election of the republican candidates a fore-gone conclusion. He wanted the men of the north not to be scared with this scarecrow of the dissolution, of the union. They could not drive them (of the south) out of the union. If the election was carried to the Senate, Mr. Lane, of Oregon, would be chosen President. In conclusion, Colonel Evans promised that Maryland would do her best for the republican cause, led by Mr. Winter Davis."

CALIFORNIA POLITICS.—The California mails bring the report of a speech made by A. W. Weeks at Sacramento, which seems like everything in California, sui generis.— Here is a specimen of it:

"It is scarcely necessary that I should speak of Lincoln personally, for there are hundreds here within the sound of my voice who know him, and know him well. They know him to be high minded, honorable and honest; one who in all the walks of life has shown himself to be every inch a man—and that is six feet four of him.— [Laughter and applause.] He is a man who, under all circumstances and in every position, whether driving an ox team over the plains of Illinois, or beating Stephen A. Douglas in a campaign in that state for he did beat him-whether doing any or all of these things has done it nobly, and has done it ably. (Applause.) Then there is one other candidate—Hannibal Hamlin -of whom I wish to say a word, as I came from his state and have the honor of a personal acquaintance. Mayor Gillis says that he has got an old speech that I delivered somewhere in this city years ago, in which I abused Hamlin. Well, I don't know but I did; for when I belonged to the Democratic party I used to lie like the devil. [Laughter.] I had to do it. I now plead the statute of limitation in regard to that speech. It is four years ago since I made it, and he can't draw it on me now. But to the subject. I have known Hamlin from my youth up. When but sixteen years old I went out and stumped the state of Maine with him; that is, he made the speeches and I held the horse. [Great laughter and applause.] He was a Democrat then, and I myself belonged to that old party when it was a party." THE SPIRIT OF SEVENTY-SIX.-Washing ving used to relate the following storv: An old gentleman of the old school, a somewhat pompous patriot, (belonging, if we remember rightly, to the order of "Cinwe remember rightly, to the order of "Cin-cinnati," or the "Washington Benevolent Society," and decorated with a white satin ribbon badge, on which was imprinted an engraved likeness of the Pater Patrix.) was to be called upon, at the end of the regular toasts, to step out upon a balcony of the hotel, where "Fourth of July" was being celebrated, and address the clamoring crowd. Full of good spirits, good wines, and a good dinner, he did so step out; but at first his tongue clave to the roof of his mouth: presently, however, it was loosened and he spake thus: "Fellow citizens of Passacak, Nyack and Kakiack: seventeen hundred and seventy-six years ago, Gener-

"Hold on !" said one of his fellow citizens; "you don't mean seventeen hundred and seventy-six years ago; you mean,,——
"Silence!" exclamed the irate, muddled orator: I know what I mean! Fellow citizens: as I was saying, when this fellow interrupted me : seventeen hundred and seventy-six years ago, General Washington, whom I wear in my buttonhole, died!"

COMMERCE OF MILWAUKEE .- We desire to call the attention of those people who profess to think that the trade of Milwaukee is languishing, to the statistics of receipts of produce and merchandize for the last week; to be found in our commercial columns this morning. The receipts of wheat, alone, for the week amount to about half a million bushels, exclusive of the deliveries by teams, or about double the receipts of the corresponding week last year. From the first of January to Saturday last, the receipts of wheat are 4,379,247 bushels, against 2,282,817 bushels in 1859 .- Milwankee Sentinel of Monday.

The Warren (Trumbull county) Chronicle states that much excitement was caused in that town on Monday last, by the passing through of an engine on wheels, which went puffing through the streets like a road loco-motive, as it was. It came on the C. & M. railroad from Cleveland, and was taken off the car and set in motion on its own account, bound for the Mecca oil region, there to be used in pumping oil. It was originally built for the purpose of drawing plows, to plow the prairies of the west. On the hubs of the driving wheels was the name of J. T. Price, Richville, Ind., who was probably the inventor. The cylinders were about seven inches in diameter, and the whole aparatus weighed six tons.

NOT YET TO BE DISSOLVED .- The Wash. ington Constitution concludes that the election of Lincoln would not dissolve the Un ion, but might excite to an unprecedented degree the apprehensions and indignation of the south. By the same reasoning, ought not the

Douglas vs. Douglas and the Missouri Compromise.

From Danglas' Speech in Springfield, Ill., 1850. From Denglas' Speech in Springfield, III., 1850.

The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of all patriotic men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the blessings of our glorious Union—on origin akin to that of the constitution of the United States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculated to remove forever the only dauger which threatens at some distant day, to sever the social bond of Union—All the evidences of public opinion at that day seem to indicate that this compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people as a sucred thing, which no ruthless hand would ever be reckless enough to disturb."

From Douglas' Speech at Providence, Aug. 3, 1860. My friend over there—friend or enemy, as the case may be—wants to know something about the Missouri Compromise. [Cheers,] I have not the slightest objection to telling him all he desires to know apon that question. I SROUGHT IN THE BILL TO REPEAL THE MISSOURI RESTRICTION.

How Non-Intervention Works.

"I believe that it is the right of the south to demand and the duty of congress to extend, protection of persons and property of every kind (including slaves) in the ter-ritories during their territorial state."—Herschel V. Johnson.

From Douglas' Speech in the Senate, May 16, 1860. From Douglas' Speech in the Senate, May 16, 1860.

"It is part of the history of the country that under this doctrine of non-intervention, this doctrine that you delight to call squatter sovereignty, the people of New Mexico have introduced and protected elavery in the whole of that territory. Under this doctrine they have concerted a tract of free territory into since territory, more than fine times the size of the state of New Pork.—Under this dectrine slavery has been extended from the Rio Grande to the Gulf of Culifornia, and from the line of the republic of Mexico, not only up to 38 deg. 30 mlm., but up to 88 deg.—giving you a degree and a half more stare territory than you ever claimed."

CHICAGO LIBERALITY .- Those of our citizens who were at Chicago, yesterday, unite in bearing testimony to the admirable arrangements made, and carried out, for the comfort and convenience of visitors. Every thing was thought of, and everything done at the right time and in proper order. Our Wide Awakes, especially, are enthusiastic in their praises of those who had charge of the reception and entertainment of these companies, while in the city. It cannot be denied that Chicago has won for herself an enviable reputation for liberality and generous hospitality upon all public occasions. This trait was especially prominent during the meeting of the republican national convention, but yesterday it was still more apparent in the ample preparations which had been made for the grand republican demonstration.

Blondin wanted to carry the corpulent singer, Amodio, on a rope, at Niblo's and Amodio was willing, but the manager did not encourage the enterprise.

CHICAGO!

100,000 People Present. 10,000 WIDE AWAKES.

We learn from the Chicago papers that the republican gathering at Chicago yesterday exceled in numbers and enthusiasm any meeting ever before held in the northwest. The number of people present is variously estimated at 75,000 to 100,000, 10,000 of whom were Wide Awakes.

The weather was very fine and at an earv hour, says the Journal, the trains began to arrive with deputations from the country towns. All the forenoon, the streets were thronged with a living tide of humanity.-Wide Awakes in their parti-colored uniforms met one at every step until it seemed as if every third person belonged to that inevitable organization. Men, women and children, ladened with shawls and carpet bags poured from the depots to the hotels in one unceasing tide. All of the hotels and lodging houses were taxed to their utmost to feed this vast array. Add to this the constant din of drams, fifes and bands, and it seemed that the city was invaded .-We have witnessed no such excitement and enthusiasm before, and at the hour of our going to press there is already gathered the largest crowd that ever visited this city.

WIDE AWAKE COMPANIES. The following companies arrived in the morning and reported themselves at the

The trains are constantly arriving, loaded down with Wide Awakes and strangers, and the streets are crowded to overflowing. There must be at the least calculation one hundred thousand persons, besides those to arrive this afternoon. The number of Wide Awakes will reach ten thousand.

LATER.-Since our first issue, immense crowds of Wide Awakes and other strangers have arrived by the different trains.

In the afternoon, Gov. Seward, escorted by nearly 500 Lincoln Raugers, and attended by a long procession of citizens, proceeded to Market street in front of the Wigwam, and as we go to press, is addressing the thousands and tens of thosands who fill the entire block on Market street, between Lake and Randolph.

We pronounce the demonstration one of the largest, if not the largest political gathering ever held in the United States. It is a proud day for the great apostle of human freedom for the republican cause, and is pregnant with omens of a great and glorious victory.

The Wide Awake torch-light procession it night was undoubtedly the largest and most imposing thing of the kind ever wit nessed in Chicago. Unprejudiced persons estimate the number of torches at 10,000. Throughout the whole length were scattered portraits of Lincoln, banners and transparencies bearing republican mottoes, etc. Forty-three bands were in the procession, which occupied an hour in passing a given

The Great Seward Demonstration in The Different Positions of Douglas on Stavery.

We group together below some of the different opinions which Mr. Douglas has held on the subject of Slavery :

1. In 1845, Mr. Douglas endeavored to prohibit slavery in the states which were to be formed out of the territory of Texas. 2. In 1845, Mr. Douglas distinctly asserted that congress had the right to govern the territories, and that they were subject at all times to its jurisdiction. 3. In 1849, he regarded the Missouri compromise as a "sacred thing," and in 1854 he introduced a bill into the senate to repeal it.

4. In 1850, he declared that it is no violation of southern rights to prohibit slavery in the territories. 5. In 1850, he advocated the irrepressi-ble conflict and the gradual emancipation of the slaves. 6. In 1850, he believed that congress night rightfully exclude slaves, banks or ardent spirits from the territories. 7. In 1849, he declared himself in favor of the Wilmot Proviso, and in 1850 he was in favor of extending the Missouri compromise to the Pacific ocean. 8. In 1850, he declared that he believed in a "higher law" than human enactments. 9. Mr. Douglas in 1856, voted against a proposition to permit the people of Kansas to exclude slavery from said territory, or to regulate it therein. 10. He declared that the question of admitting or prohibiting slavery is judicial, and he will abide by the decision of the

11. The supreme court decided that the right of property in a slave is distinctly and expressly affirmed in the constitution, and that the only power conferred upon congress in relation to slavery "is the power, coupled with the duty of guarding and protecting the owner in his right."

12. Mr. Douglas endorsed the whole de cision in a speech at Springfield, in 1857. 13. In 1856, Douglas declared that the sovereignty of a territory remains in abeyance, suspended in the United States.

14. At New Orleans, in 1858, he declar ed that slaves are recognized as " property ' by the constitution; and in the senate, in 1859, he said that territorial legislatures are under as much obligation to protect slaves, as any other species of property.

15. He repudiated squatter sovereignty in the senate, in May 1860; and in his reply to Judge Black, he denies that there is sovereignty in a territory. 16. At Freeport, in 1858, he said the people of a territory have the lawful means to introduce or exclude slavery as they please, no matter what the decision of the supreme court may be.

17. At Clifton Springs, within the last month, Douglas declared that the people of a territory may introduce, exclude, abolish or regulate slavery as they please!

All these different positions, and many others, have been taken by Mr. Douglas, since he-became a public man, and for ev-A special train on the St. Louis, Alton & ery statement herein made, we can produce | companied by three lines of carriages, be the proper references to the place, date and occasion upon which the sentiments were Will some democrat tell us at what par-

A letter dated Naples, September 7, says: As soon as His Majesty left a provisional government was formed, consisting of Pian-nelli, Libertini, Bella, Colonna, Conforti, Agresti and Ricciardi. Cosenz was appoin ted pro dictator, and Bertruri secretary-gen eral. This, of course, is subject to modi fication by Garibaldi.

And now for the events of the day. Gar ibaldi is among us. He marched, as one of his followers said to me to-day, for sev eral days 45 miles consecutively. Well, he arrived at Salerno yesterday, and had, I am given to understand, a most brilliant recor tion. "Perhaps he may come in for the feast of Pis di Grotts," said some, but I was the republican vote cast at the last general thunderstruck at the information of a friend this morning that he was to be here within the hour. There was no time to be lost, and so, though rather a dull and forsaken looking town, we drove to the railway. There was no signs of preparation on the road-a banner of the Madonna hung across the street from the church to the barracks, but no Sardinian flag. There was no hurry scurry in the streets, and I thought that there might have been some mistake about the matter, but nothing of the kind. At the railway station, national guards the convention proceeded to organize a were stationed at all the entrances, and flags were coming down in rapid succession for the arrival of the dictator, was sudden, like everything he does, and people were ed with efficient officers who will unprepared. The waiting rooms inside were duty in any and every emergency. full of the most eminent charaters of Naples, at least among the Liberals. There were all the members of the committee which has issued its mysterious commands for so many months: Agaia, the new commander of the National Guards; Leopardi, the historian; a great many of our countrymen, Lanover among the number; a few but very few ladies, as still there was an impression, that a row might take place. I stood by a priest who was chief of the provisional government of Lecce, and who indulged in anecdotes of Garibaldi, whom he knew well in Rome. But what delays the dictator? 101 o'clock and he does not make his appearance. At last a bell rings, and a train approaches, and there is a tremendous burst of " Vivas;" but no, it is not the hero; it is a convoy of Bavarian soldiers, who have lately deserted, and are joining the winning cause. So we turn round again, and talk over the suffering and persecutions of the last twelve years, and point out all the remarkable men in the room. At last 12 o'clock strikes, and a bell sounds, and from a distance a signal is made that Garibaldi is approaching. va Garibaldi!" rises from a thousand voices and the train stops; a few red-jackets get out, and they are seized, hugged and kiss

Carmine, and thus, by a knowing dodge, we came in front of the Dictator. There is no mistaking that face; there is the grandeur and openness of nature's noblemen expressd, and does not say any one thing plotting another; it is marked by a loyalty which in vain might be sought for in that of many of the so-called great ones of the earth. I was much struck with his calm self-possession, and the extreme sweetness of his smile. He was not in the of the French minister, though I believe it had been placed at his disposal-but in one hired for the occasion. Followed and acwent along the Marinella, through the Basso Porto, surrounded by thousands, and deafened by their greetings, up the Liago Castel-, and by San Cairo, and the palace of the King, which Royalty left but a few hours before, and entered the palace of reception for foreign princes. The crowd waved backward and forward, looking up at the vindows, and shouted for the appearance of Garibaldi. First came one red coat then another, and at last the hero. What a cry of Viva there rose from a vast mass below! It was impossible to make himself heard amid the noise and confusion, and so Garibaldi leaned over the iron railing and gazed intently on the crowd. A wave of the hand at last asked for silence, but in vain. "Zitti! zitti!" rose from all sides, and there was perfect silence. "Neapolitans," said a voice as clear as a bell, and with an enunciation so distinct that nothing could ail to reach the ear—

"This is a solemn, holy and memorable day. This day, from being subjects under day. This day, from being subjects under the yoke of tyranny, you have become a free people. I thank you in the name of the whole of Italy. You have performed a great work, not only for Italy, but for all humanity, whose rights you have windicated. The cry was taken up by the thousands assembled and "Viva Italia!" might have been heard from one end of the city to the other. There were curious speciacles to be witnessed of Amazons to the number of 200, who, dressed in the Garibaldian uniforms, had vowed to place themselves n front of the national guard and of Garbaldi, in case the military had interfered. There were priests with tri-colored scarfs over their shoulders and banners in their ands, bareheaded monks with muskets on their shoulders.

There were men and women with unsheathed swords and daggers, and sword-sticks in their hands which they brandished in all the drunkeness of enthusiasm. There were hundreds of Lazzoroni, armed with pikes which had been provided for the defence of the barricades had the Bourbons driven the people to such extremes. Such were some of the scenes to be witnessed .-remarked that Garrabaldi made not the slightest allusion to the name of Victor Emanuel, and I remarked also that with giving audience to a deputation of Venetians. We learn from the Chicago papers that the republican gathering at Chicago yesterday exceled in numbers and enthusiasm any meeting ever before held in the northwest. estimated at 75,000 to 100,000, 10,000 of whom were Wide Awakes. The weather was very fine and at an early hour, says the Journal, the trains began to arrive with deputations from the country towns. All the forenoon, the streets were thronged with a living tide of humanity.-Wide Awakes in their parti-colored uniforms met one at every step until it seemed as if every third person belonged to that inevitable organization. Men, women and children, ladened with shawls, and carpet bags poured from the depots to the hotels in one unceasing tide. All of the hotels and lodging houses were taxed to their utmost to feed this vast array. Add to this the constant din of drums, fifes and bands, and it seemed that the city was invaded.-We have witnessed no such excitement and enthusiasm before, and at the hour of our going to press there is already gathered the largest crowd that ever visited this city. WIDE AWAKE COMPANIES.

The following companies arrived in the morning and reported themselves at the south side head quarters: Oneida Wide Awakes, organized September 1st. Plano and Little Rock Wide drum corps. Mendota, Sandwich, Ottawa and Monmonth. The Central company takes care of delegates from the following places---Ottawa, Peru, La Salle, Morris, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. The North Side Wide Awakes have received the following-Elgin, Geneva, St. Charles, Dundee, Milton, Janesville, Har-

Morrison, Lane, Sycamore, Clinton (Iowa.) The train upon the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, which arrived at 8 o'clock, brought in thirty cars literally crammed full inside and out. Another train of ten under as much obligation to protect slaves, by nearly 500 Lincoln Rangers, and attended by a long procession of citizens, proceeded to Market street in front of the Wigwam, and as we go to press, is addressing the thousands and tens of thosands who fill the entire block on Market street, between Lake and Randolph.

The house tops in the vicinity, windows and every available inch of seeing or standing room, are crowded, far beyond the limits of his voice. The Wigwam is densely packed with a crowd, listening to Hon-Owen Lovejoy. We pronounce the demonstration one of

Janesville, Sept. 29th, 1860. Douglas vs. Douglas and the Missouri

The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of all patriotic men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the blessings of our glorious Union—on origin akin to that of the constitution of the United States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculation that of the constitution of the United States. the to remove forever the only danger which threatens at some distant day, to sever the social bond of Union.—All the evidences of public opinion at that day seem to indicate that this compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people as a sucred thing, which no ruthless hand would ever be reckless enough to comfort and convenience of visitors. Every thing was thought of, and everything done at the right time and in proper order. Our Wide Awakes, especially, are enthusiastic in their praises of those who had charge of the reception and entertainment of these companies, while in the city. It cannot be denied that Chicago has won for berself an enviable reputation for liberality and generous hospitality upon all public occasions. This trait was especially prominent during the meeting of the republican national convention, but yesterday it was still more apparent in the ample preparations which had been made for the grand republican dem-

A letter dated Naples, September 7, says: As soon as His Majesty left a provisional government was formed, consisting of Piannelli, Libertini, Bella, Colonna, Conforti, Agresti and Ricciardi.. Cosenz was appointed pro dictator, and Bertruri secretary-general. This, of course, is subject to modification by Garibaldi. And now for the events of the day. Garibaldi is among us. 'He marched, as one of his followers said to me to day, for several days 45 miles consecutively. Well, he arrived at Salerno yesterday, and had, I am

At last a belirings, and a train approaches, and there is a tremendous burst of " Vivas;" but no, it is not the hero; it is a convoy of Bavarian soldiers, who have lately deserted, and are joining the winning cause. So we turn round again, and talk over the suffering and persecutions of the last twelve years, and point out all the remarkable men in the room. At last 12 o'clock strikes, and a bell sounds, and from a distance a signal is made that Garibaldi is approaching. There is no mistaking that face; there is the grandeur and openness of nature's noblemen expressed, and does not say any one thing while plotting another; it is marked by a loyalty which in vain might be sought for in that of many of the so-called great ones of the earth. Wisconsin Conference.

At 2½ P. M., a very interesting anniversary of the conference Sunday school society was held-very interesting speeches were made by Rev. J. Lavelle, G. S. Lord Starks, Esq., of Milwaukee, and Prof. D. Y. Kilgore of Evansville Seminary. And $7,00 was raised for the Sunday school

Last evening the wives of ministers invited the Bishop to a supper at the Excelsior Hotel, where with their husbands they enjoyed a pleasant sociable.

During the evening session, Rev. L. W. Martin, who has been long a member of the conference, withdrew from the church under charge of having married a lady who is the owner of slaves. The Wisconsin Conference desires no connection with the "sum of all villainies."

Kenosha and Fond du Lac both cordially and warmly invited the Conference to sit with them next year. By a unanimous vote, Fond du Lac was chosen, two successive sessions having been held in this part of the state.

The session this morning was mostly occupied in receiving reports. By the report on education, it appears the Lawrence University and Evansville Seminary are in a prosperous condition. It is the determination of the friends of these institutions to make them the first schools of their grade in the state. Rev. Mr. Fisher of Kansas and Nebraska conference, was introduced, and gave a most interesting account of the trials of the people of Kansas, and of their distress. It was a most thrilling account. Men are just on the point of starving there. A collection of $43,00 was raised to aid the suffering preachers of Kansas.

The following was passed unanimously by a rising vote:

Resolved, That we appreciate the kind ness of the citizens of Janesville and vicinity in entertaining this body during its session in this city; and besides our thanks, which we hereby tender them, we will pray the Giver of all good to bless them in this world and bring them to eternal life in the world to come

Janesville Wholesale Market. Reported for the Janesville Gazette BUMP & GRAY, GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS; JANESVILLE, October 3, 1880.

The wheat market has been quite active during the past week, though prices have fluctuated considerably. Last Thursday the market opened at 79@84c for commen shipping to choice milling spring, and with a good milling and shipping demand prices ruled steady thro' the day, closing with plenty of buyers at full rates. Friday under a strong competition between millers and shippers an advance of 1c per bushel was gained over the day before, good to choice samples selling a 821/6085c and common to fair at 806082c, closing firm. Saturday morning the market opened rather quiet, al seeming anxious for lake shore news before operating very largely, a few hundred bushels sold, however, at a range of 80@83c for the different grades, but on receipt of despatches quoting 2@8c decline at the lake shore, buyers withdrew and prices soon fell off 2@3c here, selling the remainder of the day at 79@81c for milling spring and 77@79c shipping. Monday, owing to the heavy rain Saturday night and Sunday, receipts were light, only [about 2000 bushels being on the market during the day. The little that came forward sold at a range of 77@84. Early sales were mostly under 80c but on receipt of news from the lake shore quoting 1 advance there, buyers seemed more anxious and prices rapidly advanced to 80@84c for the different grades, closing firm at the advance.

Tuesday there was but little alteration in pprices, though there was a good deal of firmness and activity manifested by buyers, with a pleasant day and an im-provement in the reads receipts were quite large, there being 5000 bushels on the market. Prices were well sustained through the day closing firm at 82@84 for milling spring and 80@82c for shipping.

We make up prices as follows:
WHEAT—white winter 86a90c; good to choice mill ing spring $2a34; common to fair shipping $0a36. CORN—old shelled at 30a32c per 60 lbs. New in case 18a22 per 70 lbs.

Douglas vs. Douglas and the Missouri

From Douglas' Speech in Springfield, Ill., 1850. The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of all particule men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the hissings of our glorious Union—on origin akin to that of the constitution of the United States, conceiving the property of the terroid of the constitution of the United States, conceiving the property of the terroid of the United States, conceiving the property of the terroid of the United States, conceiving the property of the terroid of the United States, conceiving the United States, and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States and the United States and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States are not property of the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States and the United States are not provided the United States an to that of the constitution of the United States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculated to remove forever the only danger which threatens at some distant day, to sever the social bond of Union.—All the evidences of public opinion at that day seem to indicate that this compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people as a scored thing, which no ruthless hand would ever be reckless enough to disturb."

From Douglas' Speech at Providence, Aug. 3, 1860. My friend over there—friend or enemy, as the case may be—wants to know something about the Missouri Compromise. [Cheere.] I have not the slightest objection to telling Line all he desires to know upon that question. I BROUGHT IN THE BILL TO REPEAL THE MISSOURI RESTRICTION.

How Non-Intervention Works.

"I believe that it is the right of the south to demand and the duty of congress to extend, protection of persons and property of every kind (including slaves) in the ter-ritoria during their territorial state."—Herschel V. Johnson.

From Douglas' Speech in the Senate, May 16,1860. From Douglas' Speech in the Sonate, May 16,1860.

"It is part of the history of the country that under this doctrine of non-intervention, this doctrine that you delight to call squatter sovereignty, the people of New Mexico have introduced and protected slavery in the whole of that territory. Under this doctrine they have converted a tract of free territory into slave territory, more than five times the size of the state of New Nork.—Under this doctrine always has been extended from the Rio Grande to the Gulf of California, and from the line of the republic of Mexico, not only up to 38 deg.—giving you a degree and a half more slave territory than you ever claimed."

CHICAGO LIBERALITY.—Those of our citizens who were at Chicago, yesterday, unite in bearing testimony to the admirable arrangements made, and carried out, for the comfort and convenience of visitors. Every thing was thought of, and everything done at the right time and in proper order. Our Wide Awakes, especially, are enthusiastic in their praises of those who had charge of the reception and entertainment of these companies, while in the city. It cannot be denied that Chicago has won for herself an enviable reputation for liberality and generous hospitality upon all public occasions This trait was especially prominent during the meeting of the republican national convention, but yesterday it was still more apparent in the ample preparations which had been made for the grand republican dem-

All the forenoon, the streets were thronged with a living tide of humanity .-Wide Awakes in their parti-colored uniforms met one at every step until it seemed as if every third person belonged to that inevitable organization. Men, women and children, ladened with shawls and carpet bags poured from the depots to the hotels in one unceasing tide. All of the hotels and lodging houses were taxed to their utmost to feed this vast array. Add to this the constant din of drums, fifes and bands, and it seemed that the city was invaded .-We have witnessed no such excitement and enthusiasm before, and at the hour of our going to press there is already gathered the

The trains are constantly arriving, loaded down with Wide Awakes and strangers and the streets are crowded to overflowing. There must be at the least calculation one hundred thousand persons, besides those to arrive this afternoon. The number of Wide Awakes will reach ten thousand.

LATER.-Since our first issue, immense crowds of Wide Awakes and other strangers have arrived by the different trains.

In the afternoon, Gov. Seward, escorted by nearly 500 Lincoln Rangers, and attended by a long procession of citizens, proceeded to Market street in front of the Wigwam, and as we go to press, is addressing the thousands and tens of thosands who fill the entire block on Market street, between Lake and Randolph.

The Great Seward Demonstration in The Different Positions of Donglas on Slavery.

We group together below some of the different opinions which Mr. Douglas has held on the subject of Slavery:

1. In 1845, Mr. Douglas endeavored to prohibit slavery in the states which were to be formed out of the territory of Texas.

2. In 1845, Mr. Douglas distinctly asserted that congress had the right to govern The number of people present is variously the territories, and that they were subject at all times to its jurisdiction.

3. In 1849, he regarded the Missouri compromise as a "sacred thing," and in 1854 he introduced a bill into the senate to 4. In 1850, he declared that it is no violation of southern rights to prohibit slavery in the territories. 5. In 1850, he advocated the irrepressi-ble conflict and the gradual emancipation of the slaves. 6. In 1850, he believed that congress might rightfully exclude slaves, banks or ardent spirits from the territories. 7. In 1849, he declared himself in favor of the Wilmot Proviso, and in 1850 he was in favor of extending the Missouri compromise to the Pacific ocean. 8. In 1850, he declared that he believed in a "higher law" than human enactments. 9. Mr. Douglas in 1856, voted against a proposition to permit the people of Kansas to exclude slavery from said territory, or to regulate it therein. 10. He declared that the question of admitting or prohibiting slavery is judicial, and he will abide by the decision of the

12. Mr. Douglas endorsed the whole decision in a speech at Springfield, in 1857. 13. In 1856, Douglas declared that the sovereignty of a territory remains in abeyance, suspended in the United States. 14. At New Orleans, in 1858, he declared that slaves are recognized as "property" by the constitution; and in the senate, in 1859, he said that territorial legislatures are under as much obligation to protect slaves, as any other species of property. 15. He repudiated squatter sovereignty in the senate, in May 1860; and in his re-

Awakes from Michigan City, numbering | ply to Judge Black, he denies that there is sovereignty in a territory. 16. At Freeport, in 1858, he said the people of a territory have the lawful means to introduce or exclude slavery as they please, no matter what the decision of the supreme court may be. 17. At Clifton Springs, within the last month, Donglas declared that the people of a territory may introduce, exclude, abolish or regulate slavery as they please! And now for the events of the day. Garbaldi is among us. He marched, as one of his followers said to me to-day, for several days 15 miles consecutively. arrived at Salerno yesterday, and had, I am given to understand, a most brilliant recen "Perhaps he may come in for the feast of Pis di Grotts," said some, but I was thunderstruck at the information of a friend this morning that he was to be here within the hour. There was no time to be lost, and so, though rather a dull and forsaken looking town, we drove to the railway. There was no signs of preparation ou the road—a banner of the Madonna hung across the street from the church to the barracks, but no Sardinian flag. There was no hurry scurry in the streets, and thought that there might have been some mistake about the matter, but nothing of the kind.

At the railway station, national guards were stationed at all the entrances, and flags were coming down in rapid succession for the arrival of the dictator was sudden, like everything he does, and people were unprepared. The waiting rooms inside were full of the most eminent charaters of Naples, at least among the Liberals. There were all the members of the committee which has issued its mysterious commands for so many months; Azaia, the new commander of the National Guards; Leopardi, the historian; a great many of our countrymen. Lanover among the number; a few but very few ladies, as still there was an impression, that a row might take place. I stood by a priest who was chief of the provisional government of Lecce, and who in-dulged in anecdotes of Garibaldi, whom he knew well in Rome. But what delays the dictator? 10} o'clock and he does not make his appearance. At last a bell rings, that the only power conferred upon con-gress in relation to slavery "is the power, mendous burst of "Vivas;" but no, it is coupled with the duty of guarding and pro- not the hero; it is a convoy of Bavarian soldiers, who have lately deserted, and are joining the winning cause. So we turn round again, and talk over the suffering and persecutions of the last twelve years, and point out all the remarkable men in the room. At last 12 o'clock strikes, and a bell sounds, and from a distance a signal is made that Garibaldi is approaching. va Garibaldi!" rises from a thousand voices and the train stops; a few red-jackets get out, and they are seized, hugged and kiss ed with that most unmerciful violence which characterizes Italian ardor.

There was one poor elderly man, who, by virtue of his white beard, was taken for Garibaldi, and was slobbered so that I thought he must have sunk junder the operation; but the great man had gone round by another door, and so there was a rush in all directions to intercept him. He drove round by a side street to the front of the Carmine, and thus, by a knowing dodge, we came in front of the Dictator. There is no mistaking that face; there is the grandeur and openness of nature's noblemen expressed, and does not say any one thing while plotting another; it is marked by a loyalty which in vain might be sought for in that of many of the so-called great ones of the earth. I was much struck with his calm self-possession, and the extreme sweetness of his smile. He was not in the carriage of the French minister, though I believe it hired for the occasion. Followed and accompanied by three lines of carriages, he went along the Marinella, through the Basso Porto, surrounded by thousands, and deafened by their greetings, up the Lago Castel o, and by San Cairo, and the palace of the King, which Royalty left but a few bours before, and entered the palace of reception for foreign princes. The crowd waved backward and forward, looking up at the windows, and shouted for the appearance of Garibaldi. First came one red coat. then another, and at last the hero. What a cry of Viva there rose from a vast mass below! It was impossible to make himself heard amid the noise and confusion, and so Garibaldi leaned over the iron railing and has historically been assigned to the year gazed intently on the crowd. A wave of the hand at last asked for silence, but in vain. Zitti! zitti!" rose from all sides, and enunciation so distinct that nothing could fail to reach the ear-"This is a solemu, holy and memorable the yoke of tyranny, you have become a free people. I thank you in the name of the whole of Italy. Republicans of the city are reminded that the ward cancuses will be held this evening to elect delegates to the senatorial convention. Let there be a general turn-out.

Wisconsin Conference.

At 2] P. M., a very interesting anniversary of the conference Sunday school society was held-very interesting speeches were made by Rev. J. Lavelle, G. S. Lord Starks, Esq., of Milwaukee, and Prof. D. Y. Kilgore of Evansville Seminary. And $7,00 was raised for the Sunday school

Last evening the wives of ministers invited the Bishop to a supper at the Excelsior Hotel, where with their husbands they enjoyed a pleasant sociable.

During the evening, session, Rev. L. W. Martin, who has been long a member of the conference, withdrew from the church under charge of having married a lady who is the owner of slaves. The Wisconsin Conference desires no connection with the "sum of all villainies."

Kenosha and Fond du Lac both cordially and warmly invited the Conference to sit with them next year. By a unanimous vote, Fond du Lac was chosen, two successive sessions having been held in this part of the state.

The session this morning was mostly occupied in receiving reports. By the report on education, it appears the Lawrence University and Evansville Seminary are in a prosperous condition. It is the determination of the friends of these institutions to make them the first schools of their grade in the state. Rev. Mr. Fisher of Kansas and Nebraska conference, was introduced, and gave a most interesting account of the trials of the people of Kansas, and of their distress. It was a most thrilling account. Men are just on the point of starying there. A collection of $43,00 was raised to aid the suffering preachers of Kansas.

The following was passed unanimously by a rising vote:

Resolved, That we appreciate the kind ness of the citizens of Janesville and vicivity in entertaining this body during its session in this city; and besides our thanks, which we hereby tender them, we will pray the Giver of all good to bless them in this world and bring them to eternal life in the world to come. COMMERCIAL. Janesville Wholesale Market.

Reported for the Janesville Gazette BUMP & GRAY. GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS! JANESVILLE, Coroner 8, 1860.

The wheat market has been quite active during the past week, though prices have fluctuated considerably. Last Thursday the market opened at 79@84c for commen shipping to choice milling spring, and with a good milling and shipping demand prices ruled steady thro the day, closing with plenty of buyers at full rates. Friday under a strong competition between miller and shippers an advance of ic per bushel was gained over the day before, good to choice samples selling at 821,685c and common to fair at 80@82c, closing firm. Saturday morning the market opened rather quiet, all seeming anxious for lake shore news before operating very largely, a few hundred bushels sold. however, at a range of 80@830 for the different grades, but on receipt of despatches quoting 2@80 decline at the lake shore, buyers withdrew and prices soon fell off 2@3e here, selling the remainder of the day at 79@81c for milling spring and 77@79c shipping. Monday, swing to the heavy rain Saturday night and Sunday, receipts were light, only about 2000 hushels being on the market during the day. The little that came forward sold at a range of 77@84. Harly sales were mostly under 50c but on receipt of news from the lake shore quoting 1 advance there, buyers seemed more anxious and prices rapidly advanced to 80@84c for the Hereut grades, closing firm at the sivance.

Tuesday there was but little alteration in pprices, hough there was a good deal of firmness and activity manifested by buyers, with a pleasant day and an improvement in the roads receipts were quite large, there being 5000 bushels on the market. Prices were well metalned through the day closing firm at 82@84 for milling spring and 80@82c for shipping.

We make up prices as follows: WHEAT-white winter 85a90c; good to choice millng spring 82a84; common to fair shipping 80a85. OORN-old shelled at 80a39c per 50 lbs. New in ear 18e22 per 70 lhs.

QATS-good local and some shipping demand at 16a 18c per bushel. RYE-in fair request at 3734a42c per 60 lbs.

BARLEY-wanted at 50a56c per 50 lbs., for choice ts, and 35x45c-for common. POTATORS-plenty at 20a25c per bushel. BUTTER-plenty at 1234a15 for good to choice roll.

EGGS-in fair supply at 8c per dosen. HIDES-Green, & to 6; Dry, flint, 10 to 12. FLOUR-spring at 2,50, per 100 ibs. POULTRY-dressed turkeys, 7a8; [chickens, 6a7; WOOL-ranges at 25a40c per pound for common est clips, with but very little comming forward.

Republicans of the city are reminded that the ward caucuses will be held this evening to elect delegates to the senatorial convention. Let there be a general turn-out.

Wisconsin Conference.

At 2½ P. M., a very interesting anniversary of the conference Sunday school society was held-very interesting speeches were made by Rev. J. Lavelle, G. S. Lord Starks, Esq., of Milwaukee, and Prof. D. Y. Kilgore of Evansville Seminary. And $7,00 was raised for the Sunday school

Last evening the wives of ministers invited the Bishop to a supper at the Excelsior Hotel, where with their husbands they enjoyed a pleasant sociable.

During the evening session, Rev. L. W. Martin, who has been long a member of the conference, withdrew from the church under charge of having married a lady who is the owner of slaves. The Wisconsin Conference desires no connection with the "sum of all villainies."

Kenosha and Fond du Lac both cordially and warmly invited the Conference to sit with them next year. By a unanimous vote, Fond du Lac was chosen, two successive sessions having been held in this part of the state.

The session this morning was mostly occapied in receiving reports. By the report on education, it appears the Lawrence University and Evansville Seminary are in a prosperous condition. It is the determination of the friends of these institutions to make them the first schools of their grade in the state. Rev. Mr. Fisher of Kansas and Nebraska conference, was introduced, and gave a most interesting account of the trials of the people of Kansas, and of their distress. It was a most thrilling account. Men are just on the point of starving there. A collection of $43,00 was raised to aid the suffering preachers of Kansas.

The following was passed unanimously by a rising vote:

Resolved, That we appreciate the kind ness of the citizens of Janesville and vicinity in entertaining this body during its session in this city; and besides our thanks, which we hereby tender them, we will pray the Giver of all good to bless them in this world and bring them to eternal life in the world to come.

Janesville Wholesale Market. Reported for the Janesville Gazette, BUMP & GRAY. GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS: JANESVILLE, OCTOBER 3, 1860.

The wheat market has been quite active during the past week, though prices have fluctuated considerably. Last Thursday the market opened at 79@84c for common shipping to choice milling spring, and with a good milling and shipping demand prices ruled steady thro the day, closing with plenty of buyers at full rates. Friday under a strong competition between millers and shippers an advance of 1c per bushel was gained over the day before, good to choice samples selling at 821/2@86c and common to fair at 80@82c, closing firm. Saturday morning the market opened rather quiet, all seeming anxious for lake shore news before operating very largely, a few hundred bushels sold, however, at a range of 80@83c for the different grades, but on receipt of despatches quoting 2@3c decline at the lake shore, buyers withdraw and prices soon fell off 2@3c here, selling the remainder of the day at 79@81c for milling spring and 77@79c shipping. Monday, owing to the heavy rain Saturday night and Sunday, receipts were light, only about 2000 bushels being on the market during the day. The little that came forward sold at a range of 77@84. Early sales were mostly under 80c but on receipt of news from the lake shore quoting 1 advance there, buyers seemed more anxious and prices rapidly advanced to 80@84c for the lifferent grades, closing firm at the advance. Tuesday there was but little alteration in pprices though there was a good deal of firmness and activity manifested by buyers, with a pleasant day and an im-provement in the roads receipts were quite large, there being 5000 bushels on the market. Prices were well nstained through the day closing firm at 82@84 for milling spring and 80@32c for shipping.

We make up prices as follows: WHEAT-white winter 85a90c: good to choice mill ng spring 82a84; common to fair shipping 80a85. CORN-old shelled at 30a32c per 60 lbs. New in car

8a22 per 70 lbs. OATS-good local and some shipping demand at 16a isc per bushel. RYE-in fair request at 87 2412c per 60 lbs.

BARLEY-wanted at 50absc per 50 lbs., for choice ots, and 35a45c for common. POTATOES--plenty at 20a25c per bushel. BUTTER-plenty at 12 gals for good to choice roll. EGGS—in fair supply at 8c per dozen. HIDES-Green, 5 to 6; Dry, flint, 10 to 12. FLOUR—spring at 2,50, per 100 lbs.

POULTRY-dressed turkeys, 7a8; [chickens, 6a7; ive chickens 121/6c each. WOOL-ranges at 25a40c per pound for common to best clips, with but very little comming forward. Chicago Market.

Tuesday evening, October 2. Wheat market unsettled, northwestern club 90a91c, No 1 spring 871/2891/2, No 2, 851/287c. Flour in good demand and a shade higher. Freights more active, but FULL COMPLIANCE WITH STATE LAWS. lower. Cattle and hoge in demand.
